Who We Are

BASA is the UK and Irish voice of the adhesive and sealant industry. Our sector is a true success story, enabling the creation of countless everyday products, supporting the economy, driving sustainable development, promoting innovation, and offering exciting career opportunities for people with a diverse range of skills.

BASA represents the UK adhesives and sealants industry, a £1.3 billion industry that plays a vital role in supporting sustainable development and the move toward a circular economy.

Adhesives and sealants are essential in enabling product longevity, energy efficiency, material reduction, and recyclability across a wide range of industries, from construction and automotive to packaging and electronics.

By improving the durability and performance of products, and enabling easier disassembly and recycling, our industry helps reduce environmental impact and support the UK's carbon reduction goals. Adhesives also contribute to innovations like lightweight materials and energy-saving building solutions, helping manufacturers design with sustainability in mind.

BASA provides crucial support to the adhesives and sealants industry across the UK and Ireland, championing innovation, sustainability, and growth in a rapidly evolving market.
